A Place for Couples Therapy, Couples Workshops, and Professional Training

Our main goal is to strengthen and repair committed couples relationships. We are pleased to provide the Art and Science of Love, a workshop for couples, Gottman Method Couples Therapy, and professional training. All of the services that we provide are based on the scientific findings of John Gottman, Ph. D. who has studied over 3,000 couples in the past three decades to discover what makes couples stable and happy. We are licensed psychotherapists who have been personally trained and certified by Drs. John and Julie Gottman to provide these services. We are also proud members of the Gottman Institute. We urge all committed couples to consider attending our vital workshop in the beautiful Sonoma Wine Country.
